Oct. 23 Employer Seminar: Creating Inclusive Workplaces with Assistive Technology Tools

WETHERSFIELD, October 11, 2018 – Openings remain for the October 23 seminar, “Creating an Inclusive Workplace with Assistive Technology,” designed to provide employers with information and tools for accommodating employees with a disability and those requiring adaptive devices. It will be held at the Labor Department’s Wethersfield office, 200 Folly Brook Boulevard.

Geared for human resource professionals, small business owners and organizations/industries, the seminar is sponsored by the Connecticut Department of Labor’s Office of Workforce Competiveness and the CT Employment and Training Commission. Check-in and breakfast begins at 7:30 a.m., followed by the 8 to 10:30 a.m. seminar.

Arlene Lugo, program director of the Connecticut Tech Act Project and an assistive technology consultant with the Department of Rehabilitative Services, will offer solutions to employers seeking adaptive or assistive technology, provide information on where to see resources first-hand, and answer questions on finding local suppliers.

The $25 workshop fee includes breakfast and materials. Individuals can register online at <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/creating-an-inclusive-workplace-with-assistive-technology-tickets-49605943713>
