Other Fields of Study: Public Allies Connecticut is a full-time leadership development program funded by AmeriCorps. A diverse team of Allies, ages 18-30, serve ten months at non-profit and public organizations in and around Hartford, New Haven, and Bridgeport, Connecticut, gaining hands-on work experience while making a difference in their communities. Allies also receive comprehensive professional development training. Past Ally placements have included New Haven City Hall, Connecticut Coalition for Achievement Now, the Village for Children and Families, Integrated Refugee and Immigrant Services, and many others.

To become a Public Ally, you must be at least 18 years of age, hold at least a high school diploma or GED (though many Allies have college degrees), and have a strong commitment to community service. Allies receive a stipend of $16,500 over 10 months, health insurance, and may qualify for student loan deferment and childcare assistance if eligible. Upon completion of service Allies also receive an education award (scholarship) of $4,725.
