Dé un paso al frente en su carrera

The Connecticut Department of Labor can help.

We're here when you need us.

First-time job searches can be overwhelming. Many students looking for jobs and beginning career exploration — on their own for the first time.

The Connecticut Department of Labor offers a wide variety of youth employment services to assist students with the job search and career exploration process. Programs, such as a job search and résumé writing workshops, can also be presented at your school or local organization.

"The students have greatly benefited from the career workshops, plus they have had the opportunity to meet with a professional who truly cares about the development and success of our youth."
